

Mission Aligned--Quality Driven

Data Driven Analytics

Federal Engineering Delivery’s (FEDelivery) analytics services improve federal decisions, systems, and performance through big data analysis and mission driven automated scenarios.

Our core competencies include:

Business Intelligence: Federal Engineering Delivery’s solutions provide cradle to grave business intelligence support. We capture mission critical data and convert it to dashboards, visualizations, or reports to aid our clients with their most critical decisions.

Data Mining: Federal Engineering Delivery provides a systemic and logical approach to using data to make decisions. We leverage top data mining tools (Rapid Miner, Oracle Data Mining, and Python) to uncover and shape critical decisions. Data mining output follow the data management plan for storage and disposal.

Process Engineering: Federal Engineering Delivery aligns processes with repeatable quality. We design, implement, standardize, control and optimize internal and cross agency processes for federal clients. We work with all department, divisions, tools, and assets that utilizes the process to improve efficiencies and standardize outputs. One process improvement effort identified the requirement to use SQL queries and network flow analysis to identify impacted stakeholder groups by IPs and security zones for 100,000+ end users.

Data & Knowledge Management: Federal Delivery Engineering assists federal agencies with creating and executing a data management plan. Our solutions provide processes for data capture, management, and storage. We support policy creation, disaster recovery, privacy requirements, and federal required data disposal processes.

CLIENTS SUPPORTED

Policy Development: Federal Engineering Delivery develops, reviews, and maintain policy documents that pertain to DoD strategic analysis and data management.

Data Management: Federal Engineering Delivery performs bigdata and metadata management services. Using our data management and conformance processes we enable uniform data coordination between federal agencies, reducing data duplication and saving millions of dollars.

Technology Assessment: Federal Engineering Delivery supports the comprehensive assessment of analytical tools to include detailed tool and enterprise documentation, data dictionaries, data models, system diagrams, capabilities assessment, and configuration and version management documents.

Electronic Recordkeeping: Federal Engineering Delivery’s services provide federal agency records transparency, specifically those with electronic data or record requirements. Our team consolidates all records into a records management system, creates record keeping functionality in electronic information systems, and creates secure data and record retention management requirements.

Data Authenticity: Federal Engineering Delivery’s services provide audit control standards to ensure data is applicable, complete, and accurate. We also provide data reliability assessments to address data control policies and procedures which help correct any reliability risks per the ISO 31000 and PMBOK processes.
